(Rulings as Chairman of Committees)
Appeal in Certain Civil Matters (Ireland) Bill
The Chairman said, he had considered the matter very carefully. If the Amendment of the right hon. Member for Dublin University had been confined to the cases dealt with in the Bill, it would have been in order. But it went very much beyond that, and therefore it went beyond the scope of the Bill. The title was not the only guide to what was in the Bill, but the Amendment of the right hon. Member for Dublin University went beyond the subject-matter of the Bill, and therefore it was not in order May 11 [49] 236

Archdeaconry of London (Additional Endowments) Bill

The Chairman said: "I do not accept that Motion. The Committee has just decided by a very considerable majority that Progress shall not be reported; and therefore Clause 1 will be proceeded with." July 28 [51] 1386

The Chairman said: "The hon. Member must confine himself to the question. That Clause 1 stand part of the Bill." July 28, 1386

Army Estimates: 158,774 Land Forces, Number of

The Chairman said: "The hon. Member is trenching upon political subjects. He must confine himself to the military portion." Feb 12 [46] 355

Army Estimates: £639,000 for Transport and Remounts

The Chairman said, it would be obviously undesirable to raise the same question on two Votes. The natural place to raise the question would be on the next Vote Feb 19 [46] 825

Army Estimates: £255,300 for Volunteer Corps Capitation Grant (Supplementary)

The Chairman said, the hon. Member would be quite out of order in discussing the general question on that Vote. The hon. Member must strictly confine himself to the limits of the items of the Vote which was then presented to the Committee Jan 29 [45] 843

The Chairman said: "That argument is applicable to the original Vote. It does not apply to this part. The hon. Member must confine himself strictly to this Supplementary Estimate. He must not discuss the general principles of Volunteer Corps or whether the money applied to Volunteer Corps should be applicable to Ireland or not. It does not arise on this Vote." Jan 29, 843

The Chairman said, it would not be in order to discuss that matter, which was not included in the Vote. It was not the Capitation Grant that came under discussion, only the Supplementary Grant Jan 29, 845

Budget, Financial Statement

The Chairman pointed out, that the hon. Member was now going into details relating to a Blue-book the consideration of which, by the common consent of the Committee, had been deferred to a later day. Of course, he had no power to prevent the hon. Member from going into the matter April 29 [48] 1322

The Chairman said, he had stated that, as a point of order, he could not stop the hon. Member from going into the matter; but, now that he was challenged on the matter he was bound to say that it was irrelevant at the present stage to go into the minute details of a Blue-book, and, therefore, he must request the hon. Member to desist from going into them April 29, 1322

Budget Resolutions

The Chairman said: "I must remind the hon. Member that the general financial relations between Great Britain and Ireland cannot be discussed on this Resolution. The only question now before the Committee is in regard to the imposition of the duty on tea." May 10 [49] 157

The Chairman said, the hon. Member was not entitled to take a general survey of the taxation of this Country on the Resolution before the Committee. That Resolution related only to the tea duty, and the hon. Gentleman must confine himself to that question May 10, 159

The Chairman said: "The general custom which has been followed this year is that the general discussion is taken until a Resolution is passed. The first Resolution, the Income Tax Resolution, has been passed by the House." May 10, 160

Congested Districts (Scotland) Bill

The Chairman said: "This Amendment is not on the Paper, and I have not seen it before. But if it means anything, it means that sums beyond the £20,000 to which the Committee has already given its assent, may be allocated by Parliament for this particular purpose, and, if that be so, it would be out of order." June 29 [50] 806

The Chairman said: "That is an argument against the original Resolution, and the hon. Member should have made his objection when it was moved. The Committee have decided that £20,000 should be the maximum sum, and therefore the Committee cannot now go beyond that sum." June 29, 807

Consolidation Fund (Appropriation) Bill

The Chairman said: "The House having decided to appropriate that specific item, it cannot go back on the decision at which it has already arrived." Aug 5 [52] 415

Finance Bill

The Chairman said: "I was under the impression that the hon. Member was going to conclude his speech by moving his Amendment." June 29 [50] 769

The Chairman suggested, that the two new clauses on the Paper of the hon. Member for the Newton Division of Lancashire should be combined and put forward as one new clause June 29, 777

Foreign Prison-made Goods Bill

The Chairman said: "The hon. Member is rather treating the matter from a Second Reading point of view. I would remind the hon. Gentleman that the Second Reading has been accepted by the House." July 13 [51] 44

The Chairman said, he very much doubted whether the original Amendment was in order after the explanation which had been given July 13, 51

The Chairman said: "I do not see how that point can be raised by the Amendment before the Committee. It will require a separate Amendment." July 13, 53

The Chairman said: "I have just pointed out that that question really does not arise on the Amendment. It will require a separate Amendment." July 13, 53

The Chairman said, he considered that to put such a Motion would be an abuse of the Rules of the House. The hon. Member who had moved the Amendment had asked leave to withdraw it; the hon. Member for Islington was opposed to the Amendment; and therefore, in face of the fact that its Mover was prepared to withdraw the Amendment, he thought it would be an abuse to allow a Motion to report Progress to be made July 13, 60

The Chairman said, he was sorry if he misunderstood the hon. Member's first speech, the impression it conveyed to his mind being that the hon. Member was strongly opposed to the Amendment July 13, 60

The Chairman said: "A new clause has been handed in on a piece of paper without any name and without any title. I understand it is by the hon. Member for Carnarvon, but it is out of order. He proposes to apply the procedure under Section 45 of the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876, to prison-made goods. That procedure, which deals with the striking of books off the list of copyright books, is not applicable to foreign prison-made goods." July 13, 81

Military Works Bill

The Chairman said: "That point does not arise on the Amendment, which is to limit the expenditure of the money within seven years. If this Amendment be carried the whole of the money will have to be spent in seven years." Feb 22 [46] 947

The Chairman said, the argument of the hon. Member was that every year this proposal was to be discussed on the Estimates, but that was not met by the Amendment Feb 22, 947

The Chairman said: "If I correctly understand the proposal of the hon. Gentleman, it is that an estimate should be laid before the House of Commons in order that the House of Commons should decide upon it. Such a proposal would be clearly out of order, because that would be contrary to what the House has already decided. If the hon. Member merely proposes that an estimate of the expenditure should be laid on the Table of the House, for the information of hon. Members, that, of course, would be in order." Feb 22, 955

The Chairman said: "This question was raised and thoroughly discussed on the first clause, and the hon. Member is not entitled to repeat the whole of his arguments, or to raise the question again." Mar 22, 1144

The Chairman said: "There is no proposal in the Bill for erecting permanent buildings on Salisbury Plain, and therefore no discussion can be raised upon the subject." Mar 22, 1145

The Chairman said: "I think that discussion should be raised on the Non-effective Vote." Mar 12 [47] 645

Navy Estimates: £4,696,000 for Wages, etc.

The Chairman said: "The Admirals simply carried out the instructions of the Admiralty, and the Admiralty are responsible for the issue of instructions. Therefore, any criticisms must be made upon the salary of the First Lord of the Admiralty by whom the instructions are issued." Mar 19 [47] 1038

The Chairman said: "That would not arise upon this Vote, for obviously the Admirals who carry out the instructions are not responsible." Mar 19, 1039

The Chairman said: "The House has already decided to increase the number of men employed in the Navy. It is open for the hon. Member to move that their pay shall be reduced; otherwise I do not see how he can cut down the Vote by three-quarters of a million without reducing the number of men." Mar 19, 1053

The Chairman said: "The House has already decided to increase the number of men. If the hon. Member can show that the same number of men can be maintained out of the reduced sum he is entitled to do so, but the general question cannot be raised a second time." Mar 19, 1054

Supply: £27,246 for Chief Secretary for Ireland, Office of

The Chairman said, the hon. Gentleman was going rather beyond what was generally permitted in Committee of Supply. The legislative action of a Minister could not be criticised in Committee of Supply Aug 2 [52] 123

The Chairman said, that the proper time to criticise such action was when the action was proposed to be taken. He founded what he said upon a decision of his predecessor. The hon. Member for Preston called attention to the action of the Board of Trade, and said that the President of the Board of Trade ought to put his foot down and insist upon securing for the Department a larger amount of the time of the House. The then Chairman ruled that the hon. Member could only call attention to the administrative acts of a Minister, and that it was not in order to refer to what a Minister had done or not done. That was a ruling which had obtained ever since. The hon. Member could, perhaps, raise the question he sought to bring up upon the Second Reading of the Appropriation Bill Aug 2, 123

The Chairman said: "I cannot see how the hon. Member connects the social condition of Ireland with the salary of the Chief Secretary. If he can point out any administrative act which the Chief Secretary has taken or any administrative act which the right hon. Gentleman has failed to fulfil, then the hon. Member would be in order; but the matter he is now referring to seems to be one which can be dealt with only by means of legislation." Aug 2, 128

The Chairman said: "That question does not arise on this Vote; it arises on the Vote for the Local Government Board of Ireland." Aug 2, 128

The Chairman said: "The hon. Gentleman is entering on a discussion of the personnel of the Land Commission, and, in doing so, he is not in order." Aug 2, 131

The Chairman said: "I do not see how this arises out of the Vote for the Chief Secretary's salary. There is a separate Vote for the Local Government Board." Aug 2, 151

The Chairman observed, that neither of those were administrative Acts. They were both legislative. The action of the Chief Secretary in bringing in Bills or his omission to bring in Bills could not be discussed upon this Vote Aug 2, 152

The Chairman said: "The question of the nomination of the sub-Commissioners ought to be raised on the Vote for the Land Commission. It is only the Royal Commission that can be discussed on this Vote." Aug 2, 153

The Chairman said, the proper place to raise a question connected with the Congested Districts Board would be when the Vote for that Board was taken Aug 2, 154

The Chairman said: "The Board of Control is not under the control of the Chief Secretary. He is not responsible for that Department." Aug 2, 155

The Chairman said: "Nobody is responsible. It was set up under Statute, and it is not responsible to this House." Aug 2, 155

Supply: £238,212 for Diplomatic and Consular Services.

The Chairman said: "Questions of this kind have always been raised on the Foreign Office Vote, and that would be the proper place for the discussion of this subject. The hon. Member has been quite in order in drawing attention to the particular and abnormal position—as he describes it—of Lord Cromer in Egypt, but any general discussion of the policy of the Government in Egypt ought to be raised on the Foreign Office Vote." June 24 [50] 529

The Chairman said: "I do not think that question could be properly raised on this Vote. Lord Cromer is the agent of the British Government in Egypt, and of course he would only carry out the instructions given him by the Foreign Office, and it is on the Foreign Office Vote that a discussion on the subject of any further expedition in the Soudan would properly be raised." June 24, 529

The Chairman thought, the question which the hon. Baronet wished to raise ought to be raised on the Vote for Piers and Harbours in the Highlands and Islands. If he wished, however, to raise the question as regarded the whole of Scotland, it might possibly arise then June 25 [50] 574

Supply: £24,037 for Harbours, Lighthouses, etc.

The Chairman said: "To discuss that would be out of order. The point the hon. Member is anxious to raise should be raised in Committee of Ways and Means. There is here no question of taxation, it is only a question of granting the money." May 28 [49] 1538

The Chairman said, it must be obvious to the hon. Member that they could not discuss on the Vote for Harbours and Lighthouses whether or not Ireland paid her fair share of the general taxation. The hon. Member would be perfectly entitled to discuss whether too much money under this Vote was spent on English and Scottish harbours May 28, 1539

The Chairman said: "I must name the hon. Member, Mr. REDMOND, for disregarding the authority of the Chair." May 28, 1539

[The CHAIRMAN left the Chair to make his Report to the House. Mr. SPEAKER having resumed the Chair,]

The Chairman said: "Mr. Speaker,—I have to report to you that, during the discussion of a Resolution in Supply, it became my duty to call to order the hon. Member for Waterford City, and, in consequence of persistent irrelevance, I requested him to resume his seat under the Standing Orders of the House. He stated that he would decline to comply with my order, and it then became necessary for me to name the hon. Member. In consequence of that, a Motion was made that the hon. Member should be suspended from the service of the House; and I have to report to you, Sir, that that Motion was put, and was carried in Committee." May 28, 1540

The Chairman said: "I have already ruled more than once on that point, that that question cannot be raised upon Votes in Supply. It must be raised in Committee of Ways and Means. The Chairman said: "I do not know whether it be really necessary for me to repeat what I have already ruled—that that question cannot be raised in Committee of Supply. There are other and proper opportunities for raising that question. All I have ruled this afternoon is, that this is not a proper occasion for raising that question, and if the hon. Member persist in disregarding my ruling I am afraid I shall have to put the Standing Order in force." May 28, 1543

The Chairman said: "The hon. Member is perfectly entitled to object to this Vote on the ground that it is too large, and that too much money is spent on English and Scottish harbours and not enough on Irish harbours; but the question of the financial relations between Great Britain and Ireland cannot be discussed on this Vote. I think the hon. Member will see—on reflection it will be obvious to him—that it must be so, because otherwise the same question can be raised on every Vote, and that would clearly be against the ordinary rules and practice of the House. Therefore that seems to me to be sufficient ground, amongst others, for saying that the question cannot be discussed now, and therefore I must ask the hon. Member to confine himself to the Vote." May 28, 1544

The Chairman said: "If that be so, the hon. Member will be disorderly, for he will be violating the ruling I have laid down. If the hon. Member persist in that course I shall have to put the Standing Order in force." May 28, 1544

The Chairman said: "The hon. Member is grossly disorderly in his last remark. My ruling is not to the effect quoted by the hon. Member. My ruling is, that the hon. Member is not entitled on the present occasion to discuss the question of the financial relations of Great Britain and Ireland. If he cannot state his objections to this Vote without discussing that question, there is no necessity for him to state them, and he can remain silent. Supply: £8,485 for House of Lords, Salaries and Expenses

The Chairman said, it would not be possible for the hon. Member to discuss the position of the House of Lords upon the question of the salaries of the House of Lords officers. up on this Amendment. The only question now before the Committee is whether the office of Chief Justice or Chief Baron is to take precedence, and therefore any Debate must be confined to the comparison between the two offices." July 31 [52] 23

The Chairman said: "The last statement of the hon. Gentleman seems distinctly to trench upon the Rules of the House. The hon. Gentleman is now criticising the legal ability of the Chief Justice, and if he desires to take exception to that there is a proper way of bringing the question before the House. It must be done by a distinct Motion; this is not the proper opportunity of raising it." July 31, 24

The Chairman said: "It is not in order to impute motives, and if the right hon. Gentleman the Member for Dublin University has imputed a motive I am sure he will see it is undesirable to do so and will not do so." July 31, 27

Voluntary Schools (Aid Grant)

The Chairman said: "The hon. Member is not addressing himself to the Amendment. There may be reasons why the Amendment should be accepted, but the hon. Gentleman is not dealing with the Amendment at all. He is urging no reason why it should be accepted in place of the original Motion." Feb 2 [45] 1151

The Chairman said: "The process is not so elaborate as the hon. Member seems to think it is. If he will look at Rule I. he will observe that the Closure may be moved 'on the interruption of business.' It was moved on the interruption of business. The interruption of business took place when the hon. Member objected to my putting the Question. That was the interruption of business, and thereupon the Closure was moved according to Rule I. The Question is, That the Question be now put." Feb 2, 1162

The Chairman said: "That is not the proposal before the Committtee. The proposal is to postpone the first clause to the end of the Bill." Mar 1 [46] 1354

The Chairman said: "Anyone who introduces a Bill is entitled to draft it as he thinks best. There is no precedent for an Amendment to postpone parts of a clause. That would be a most inconvenient course. Indeed, there is no machinery for working a Bill in that way." Mar 1, 1354

The Chairman said, he thought it rather an unusual thing to argue the point, but as he unfortunately did not receive, prior to coming into the Chair, the communication to which the hon. Member had referred, he thought it right he should state his case. It seemed to him it was perfectly clear. There was a Standing Order which said that the precise duration of every temporary law should be expressed in a distinct clause at the end of the Bill. He could not get over that. The hon. Member proposed to make this a temporary law, and he proposed to state the precise duration of it by his Amendment. That being so, it was perfectly clear, according to the Order of the House, which he had no authority to set aside even if he wished to do so, that the clause must come in at the end of the Bill. The hon. Member had referred to precedents. He could not answer for those in which he was not concerned, but the hon. Member quoted the precedent of last Session. His attention was not called to the wording of the Standing Order when that Amendment was moved, and he could only say it must have slipped into the Bill, as the lawyers said, per incuriam. He was not then so familiar with the Standing Orders as he had since become, and probably if the proposal were made again from any quarter of the House, it would not be admitted. He felt obliged to rule the Amendment out of Order Mar 1, 1356

The Chairman said: "Certainly not. It would probably be in order as a new clause at the end of the Bill. The Amendments in the names of the hon. Member for Carnarvon (Mr. Lloyd-George)—to leave out the words 'For aiding,' and to insert the words 'in order to establish a fund out of which the Education Department may aid necessitous'—and the hon. Member for West Denbighshire (Mr. Herbert Roberts)—to leave out the words 'For aiding,' and to insert the words 'To necessitous'—appear to be precisely the same as that standing in the name of the hon. Member for the South Molton Division (Mr. Lambert). The two hon. Members first mentioned have very ingeniously attempted to raise the question before the proper time, I therefore propose to call upon the hon. Member for South Molton. The Amendment of the hon. Member for Bethnal Green ought properly to be raised on line 12, sub-section 2. The Amendment immediately following, to leave out 'aiding' and insert 'supplementing voluntary subscriptions contributed towards,' and the Amendment of the hon. Member below the Gangway, ought to come in on line 13." Mar 1, 1357

The Chairman said: "I do not like to give an opinion on an abstract question. It is for the Committee to judge whether the Bill deals only with existing schools or with schools that may be opened in the future. This is not a question of order." Mar 1, 1379

The Chairman said: "I listened to the hon. Member to gather his reasons for introducing the subject of free education. Having heard them, I am clearly of opinion that it cannot be further gone into." Mar 1, 1398

The Chairman said, the hon. Gentleman was in order in dealing with the question of the limitation of the amount, but not in going into the general question of free education Mar 1, 1399

The Chairman ruled, that the word "annually" must remain as applying to the Parliamentary Aid Grant. Such grants could not be made quarterly. There was nothing to prevent the proposal of a proviso that payments out of the grant should be made quarterly Mar 1, 1405

The Chairman said, he did not see their relevancy. The sole point before the Committee was whether average attendance or voluntary subscriptions should be the basis of the aggregate amount of the Aid Grant Mar 3, 1543

The Chairman said, he understood the hon. Member was using these instances as an argument to show that the total amount would be reduced Mar 3, 1544

The Chairman said, the right hon. Gentleman should have called attention to the matter after the Division referred to. At present there was no course open to him; but on the occasion the only thing to do under the circumstances was to take measures to avoid passing the Tellers Mar 3, 1552

The Chairman said: "I am sorry to interrupt the hon. Member, but the question of the Board Schools is not before us. The question is whether the grant shall be 5s. or 4s. per head." Mar 3, 1555

The Chairman said: "It is only right that I should say, in accepting this Motion, that I have satisfied myself that if it should be carried it would not cut out a single Amendment of any substance. Nearly three pages of the Amendments that follow are out of order. I think it is only due to the Committee that I should give my reason for accepting the Motion. These Amendments are for the most part excluded by the ruling of Mr. Speaker on the Notices of Motion for Instructions on going into Committee. Some of the Amendments are in the wrong place, and the two or three that remain are really not Amendments of substance. I therefore accept the Motion." Mar 3, 1563

The Chairman said, the Standing Order provided that the Closure might be moved on the interruption of business, and the interruption of business was when he announced the numbers of the last Division Mar 3, 1563

The Chairman said: "I must decline to give an opinion in answer to the hon. Member's question as to all the clauses, but certainly the right hon. Gentleman would be in order if he moved that the question be put that the whole clause stand part of the Bill. If it be in order to move the whole clause clearly it is in order to move a portion of the clause." Mar 3, 1564

The Chairman said: "The hon. Member's Amendment is out of order, because it is in the wrong place. It ought to come at the end of the sub-section or as a new clause." Mar 4, 1614

The Chairman said: "I do not exactly see how the question of voluntary subscriptions arises on the Amendment of the hon. Member." Mar 4, 1649

The Chairman said: "The question of due regard is one which can be debated at a later stage. It is obviously inconvenient to debate it now, because the Amendment raises a totally different question." Mar 4, 1649

The Chairman said: "The next Amendment not out of order stands in the name of the hon. Member for Mid Glamorgan (Mr. Samuel Evans). I confess that I do not quite understand what the Amendment means. If it mean that the Education Department is to have no discretion as to the mode in allotting the amounts, but is to allot the 5s. grant all round, it is out of order. But if it have any other meaning, then it may be in order, and perhaps the hon. Gentleman will explain it." Mar 4, 1668

The Chairman reminded the hon. Member that the only question before the Committee was that a scheme should be submitted to Parliament Mar 8, 227

The Chairman said: "On the ground that it imposes certain duties upon an authority which has been constituted for wholly different duties, and those duties are sought to be imposed by this Amendment without any preliminary Resolution of the House." Mar 8, 228

The Chairman said: "I do not quite follow how the hon. Member makes his line of remark relevant to the present Amendment. He seems to be discussing the last Amendment. I should like the hon. Member to explain what the meaning of his Amendment is." Mar 9, 333

The Chairman said: "If that be so, the hon. Member is seeking to upset the decision to which the Committee has just come." Mar 9, 333

The Chairman said: "If the Amendment be intended to be a definition of the word 'necessitous' it clearly ought to come in the definition clause. The first and third Amendments of the hon. Member for Anglesey, standing on the top of page 20, are in order, but ought to come at the end of the clause." Mar 9, 334

The Chairman said: "I think it is beyond the scope of the Bill altogether. The Amendment of the hon. Member for East Northamptonshire (Mr. Channing) is in order, but it ought to come up as a new clause. The next Amendment in order is at the top of page 22, Mr. Lloyd-George." Mar 9, 334

The Chairman said: "The hon. Member will remember that the subject was discussed on Clause 1, page 1, line 5, where an hon. Member for one of the Divisions of Lincolnshire moved to insert the words, 'in which no charge for school fees is made.' He will remember that I several times pointed out it was not the proper place to discuss the Amendment, or, indeed, to move it. What the hon. Member intended was to move it on the second sub-section, but as he moved it on the first sub-section and took a Division the Committee are precluded from re-opening the question." Mar 9, 334

The Chairman said: "That was not my fault, but the fault of the hon. Member, who chose to move his Amendment in the wrong place." Mar 9, 335

The Chairman said: "If the hon. Member's Amendment be intended to provide an alternative to the scheme of the Government, it is quite clear the Government are entitled to have their scheme placed before the Committee first." Mar 9, 335

The Chairman said: "It is extremely unusual to cross-examine the Chairman in the way that is now being done. I think it will not be my duty to reply any further. I may say, however, that I have taken a great deal of trouble to understand the Amendments, and I do not not think it would conduce to the order of business if I were cross-examined as to my reasons." Mar 9, 335

The Chairman said, he was afraid the hon. Member could not move the Amendment in that form, because it was an alternative to the next words. The way he would put the Amendment would be to leave out "in such areas" Mar 10, 403

The Chairman said, that one alternative only to the words of the Bill could be proposed at a time. It would be very inconvenient to discuss half-a-dozen alternatives at the same time. The general rule of the House was that there should be a Motion and an Amendment, and if the Committee pronounced in favour of one, it was obvious that the other was rejected. The proper course was to discuss the question of areas upon the

Amendment of the hon. Member, and if the Committee approved of the words in the Bill, no other areas could be suggested Mar 10, 403

The Chairman said, he did not mean that the discussion was to be limited in the sense referred to by the right hon. Gentleman. The right hon Gentleman said that he objected to the words "in such areas," and might equally object to the proposal of the Amendment. The right hon. Gentleman could vote against the words "in such areas," and if they were struck out he could vote against any other words which might be proposed Mar 10, 403

The Chairman said: "Of course the discussion has gone a little way from the point of the Amendment, but I think the right hon. Gentleman is entitled to reply to the criticisms that have been made by the hon. Member. After that reply has been made I think the Committee should resume the Debate on the Amendment." Mar 11, 525

The Chairman said, the only question then before the Committee was whether the governing bodies of these associations were to be elected or not Mar 11, 528

The Chairman said: "The next three Amendments are in order, but they all raise, in my opinion, exactly the same point. The Amendment of the right hon. Gentleman the Member for Fife seems to me to raise the point in a better and fuller manner than the others, and it is within my discretion which Amendment I shall receive." Mar 15, 716

The Chairman said, the hon. Member was entitled to urge upon the Committee as a reason for rejecting this clause that he had a better clause which he proposed to submit, but before the clause of the hon. Member could be discussed in detail this clause must be negatived Mar 18, 963

The Chairman said: "I really do not see the relevancy of this. Even if the Amendment which the hon. Member is supporting were carried, the grievances to which he refers would not be remedied." Mar 18, 978

Workmen (Compensation for Accidents) Bill

The Chairman said, it had been the custom lately when one Amendment raised a principle which was also raised by several other Amendments, although the principle was not stated in exactly the same terms, to discuss the principle generally on the first Amendment, and then, if the House accepted the principle of the Amendment, to consider the actual wording of the Amendment to be inserted. That would, he thought, be a convenient practice to follow on the present occasion May 25 [49] 1275

The Chairman said: "The Minister in charge of a Bill is always entitled to make a statement." May 26, 1347

The Chairman said: "It is a very common practice for the Minister in charge of a Bill to make a statement whenever a convenient opportunity arises." May 26, 1347

The Chairman said, the discussion at the present time ought not to go beyond the Amendment now before the Committee. He could not say that a discussion upon the Amendment which the hon. Member had down some 11 pages on would not be relevant. He would be in a better position to decide when they reached the Amendment May 26, 1350

The Chairman said, it was clearly incompetent for him to accept such an Amendment as that which the hon. Member had on the Paper, because that would be amending the common law, the Employers' Liability Act, and Lord Campbell's Act. That was out of order on this Bill May 26, 1354

The Chairman said, the Committee was now engaged in discussing an Amendment not before it, and he thought it would be more convenient that the two Amendments before the House should be withdrawn, and that the hon. Member for Gainsborough should then move his Amendment May 27, 1439

The Chairman said: "I fail to see how the remarks of the hon. Member are relevant to the Amendment. He seems to be going rather far afield from the question he wishes to put before the Committee." May 27, 1444

The Chairman said: "The general position of these insurance societies does not arise at all. The only question is, whether the compensation which they propose to give is not as favourable as that given under the Bill. The general position and administration of the societies cannot be discussed here." May 27, 1444

The Chairman said: "I do not think it would be relevant to insert any Amendments, except in so far as they deal with the position of the workman in regard to this Bill—that is to say, whether the compensation is more or less favourable than that which he would get from the Society." May 27, 1444

The Chairman said, that the hon. Member, although he was addressing his remarks to his Amendment, objected to the whole of the sub-clause under consideration, and it was in order for him to ask the House to reject it May 27, 1446

The Chairman said, the hon. Member was taxing the patience of the Committee. The hon. Member was objecting generally to the fourth sub-section upon the ground that friendly societies might be injured by its operation. That hardly justified

his reading long extracts. The hon. Member ought to state his reasons for objecting more generally, and abstain from going into such details May 27, 1447

The Chairman said, that he had not given any such ruling as that. He believed the hon. Member was quite competent to put his case fully before the Committee without reading long and elaborate extracts May 27, 1447

The Chairman said, the Amendment seemed to be an ingenious way of getting the word "tramway" in at an early stage of the clause. He thought the hon. Member had put it in the wrong place, and that it ought to come after the word "quarry." All the Amendments ought, in fact, to come after the word "quarry," as the Government, whose Bill it was, were entitled to have their proposals laid before the Committee before those of private Members May 31, 1640

The Chairman said, the Home Secretary had the same words in before the hon. Member, and he was, therefore, entitled to get the decision of the Committee first. If the Committee rejected the right hon. Gentleman's words, then the hon. Member would be in order June 1 [50] 49

The Chairman said, he thought the hon. Member was now dealing with matters from a Second Reading point of view. The hon. Member was entitled to use arguments why the Bill should be delayed coming into operation, but he was now travelling rather beyond that June 1, 60

The Chairman said: "There is no other form in which the question can possibly be put, and it cannot be helped if the hon. Member is excluded. He can raise the question lower down, upon the Schedule." June 1, 93

The Chairman said: "It is impossible to discuss another Amendment which really does not raise the same point as that raised by the Amendment now before the Committee. The hon. Member will have an opportunity lower down." June 1, 93

The Chairman pointed out that it was unusual to make a speech on the question that leave be given to withdraw an Amendment unless it were intended to object to leave being given June 2, 99

The Chairman said: "The hon. Member's Amendment does more than that. What he does is to define 'dependants' as including wife, husband, parent, or child, and he says that these people are to be known hereafter as 'dependants.' If he will look at the Schedule he will see that Sub-section 3 specially defines dependants; therefore, the proper place to raise the question of definition is on Sub-section 3." June 2, 105

The Chairman said: "I do not think it would be in order. To begin with, the Amendment of the hon. Member for Glasgow was put in such a way that 'dependants' does now stand part of the Schedule. But in addition to that, I also conceive that the Amendment of the hon. Member for Stroud, whether these last words are in or not, is in fact a definition of what is meant by 'dependants,' and the proper place to raise the question of definition is on Sub-section 3." June 2, 105

The Chairman said: "I think the hon. Member for Kincardineshire's Motion should come at the end. When the Committee has decided on the particular sum that shall be paid, then the hon. Member will move that it be paid in a particular way, namely, through the Post Office or in any other way." June 2, 106

The Chairman said "There is no provision in this Bill for the salary of a medical officer to be appointed by the Secretary of State, and there is no power in the Secretary of State to appoint such an officer. If the hon. Member will confine his Amendment to the medical officers appointed by the employer, it will be in order, but he cannot move at this stage to insert medical officer appointed by the Secretary of State." June 2, 134

The Chairman said: "The Resolution of the Committee enables a charge to be imposed, so far as relates to arbitration, but it does not cover the case raised by the hon. Member in his Amendment." June 2, 134

The Chairman said: "I think that course may be taken, or else it will be possible to discuss the question of the limit of the amount on the next Amendment which stands upon the Paper, which raises that question, and that question only." June 2, 136

The Chairman said: "The Amendment would be contrary to order. The Committee has not seen the proposed Third Schedule." June 3, 207

The Chairman said: "It is contrary to order to move an Amendment in this way referring to a proposed Amendment which does not appear on the Paper, and of which no notice has been given." June 3, 207

The Chairman said: "The discussion has mainly had reference to the original Amendment. I think it would be best to decide the question before the Committee—which is, the substitution of 'six months' for 'twelve months' in the Amendment." June 3, 231

Speaker, Mr.

THE RIGHT HON.
WILLIAM COURT GULLY, Q.C., Carlisle

Money-lending, Select Committee
Attendance of John Kirkwood at the Bar
[Questions to Mr. Kirkwood, re his refusal to answer Select Committee, put by Mr. SPEAKER; Mr. Kirkwood ordered to withdraw July 16 [51] 312, 313, 314]
The hon. Member must not turn this Debate into a Debate on the proceedings of the South Africa Committee. The question is, whether the Motion before the House should be agreed to July 16, 316
[Mr. Kirkwood having been re-summoned to the Bar of the House, Mr. SPEAKER admonished him:]
John Kirkwood—I am directed by the House to inform you that they consider that you are bound to answer the Question, and to direct you to answer it to the satisfaction of the Committee. I therefore have to admonish you to attend the Committee at the next meeting to which you are summoned and to answer the Question satisfactorily. I think I may add the satisfaction of the House at hearing that you have declared your intention of doing so. I now direct you to withdraw July 16, 317

Notices of Motion
May I ask hon. Members, when they bring up Notices of Motions in order to hand them in, to put on them the number they have obtained in the ballot? This will facilitate the labour of the clerks at the Table Jan 21 [45] 201

Order Questions
I think, where precedence has been given by the Government to a Motion, that Motion should be left in the shape in which it stood at the time precedence was accorded to it. Unless, therefore, the Leader of the House consents to the Motion of the hon. Member for Burnley being moved in the shape in which it now appears, or unless there be some necessity of Parliamentary procedure which requires that it should be divided into two questions (which I do not think exists in the present case), I should feel it my duty to put it as it originally stood—that is to say, as one question. I ought to add, as some hon. Members seem to be under the impression that the form in which the Motion now stands on the Paper is one which was submitted to me for my approval, that that is not the case. I was not aware of any change until I saw it on the Paper July 26 [51] 1092

I do not think, as I said yesterday, and as I seem to have said in 1895, although I had forgotten it, that any question of Order arises; nor do I think that a question of Privilege arises; though it is no doubt the case that in the House of Commons information is more generally given directly to the House and not by reference to the House of Lords. It is a somewhat unusual occurrence, but I do not think that any question of Order or of Privilege in the strict sense can arise Aug 4 [52] 325
It not being a question of Order or of Privilege, I do not quite see what is the locus standi of the hon. Gentleman Aug 4, 325

Petitions
It is a matter for the House, and not for me, to say whether the Petition should lie upon the Table. Certainly it does appear to me to be couched in language to which we are not accustomed July 6 [50] 1209
I have not had an opportunity of looking into the matter, but I am not aware that there is any precedent for a Motion of that kind at this stage. I would therefore suggest to the hon. Gentleman that, the opinion of the House having been indicated, he should let the matter drop July 6, 1210
An hon. Member who presents a Petition must exercise his own discretion in doing so. The right hon. Gentleman has in this case exercised his own discretion July 6, 1210
The Rule of the House, which requires that a Petition shall be in writing, and not printed, was made long before typewriting was known, and therefore contains no reference to typewriting. I am bound to say that the document in question which has been handed to me is in print, and therefore is not in conformity with the Rule. It is quite possible that the House may be disposed to alter the Rule, but as long as it stands it must be conformed to. In my view typewriting is in the nature of printing, and not of writing July 7, 1297
The Petitioners must be informed of the Order of the House in the matter. The Rule binds the House itself as well as the Committees on public Petitions. July 7, 1297

Private Business

A number of formal Amendments to the Standing Orders relating to Private Bills stand upon the Paper in the name of the Chairman of Ways and Means, and with the permission of the House I will put the Question that they should be agreed to as a whole, leaving it to any hon. Member to object to any particular Amendment if he should think fit to do so, in which case I will of course put any such Amendment separately Aug 3 [52] 227

Privilege Questions

British South Africa Committee

I have had very short opportunity of looking at the Report, and I have had no notice of the Question asked; but I did look at the Report in view of the possibility of some such question being asked, and it appears to me that this is not a case in which the question of Privilege can now be raised in the House. I cannot find that there is any precedent for the question being raised, except when a Committee have specially reported the circumstances to the House with a view to action being taken by the House. Here there are facts which, taken by themselves, might have been reported as a breach of Privilege if the Committee had so done at the time they took place. But the Committee have not taken that view at the time. The incident took place a long time back, and matters of Privilege must be immediately taken notice of. The Committee have now presented their Report of this matter, not as constituting a breach of privilege, but as a matter which incidentally took place during the sittings, and as a matter which they did not think fit to treat as a breach of Privilege. Under these circumstances I think there is no precedent for the House treating this as a breach of Privilege by selecting a passage from the Report of the Committee which was not intended to raise any such question July 16 [51] 311

With regard to the first Question, I am not able to say whether there is any precedent of that kind. With regard to the second Question, I think I have already given what my opinion is upon it July 16, 312

Poona Outrages

I do not see that the observations of the hon. Gentleman raise any question of Order or Privilege. The Question which the hon. Member has just read is not one which casts any reflection on the personal character of any individual. It is an attack on the policy of the Indian Government by an Indian newspaper; and the hon. Member who put the Question down was equally entitled to take it off, and he has taken it off. If the hon. Member, however, desires to have the Question answered, of course he is at liberty to put it down himself on the Notice Paper July 15 [51] 179

[cont.

Resolution of 1688

The Resolution of 1688, to which the right hon. Gentleman has referred, is no doubt still part of the practice and Rules of the House. I need not refer more particularly to the Resolution, as the right hon. Gentleman has read its terms. All I can say as to the course to be taken by a Committee is, that when any case arises to which that Rule is applicable it is obvious that the proper course is to report to the House May 25 [49] 1273

Queen's Diamond Jubilee

Address to Her Majesty

As it is more than 36 years since an Address was presented to Her Majesty by the Whole House, perhaps it would be convenient if I were to refer to the two points raised by the right hon. Baronet's Question. [Cheers.] As regards dress I understand it is usual for Members to go to the Palace in morning dress, except that Privy Councillors usually wear levée dress. As regards the mode of arriving at the Palace, shortly after Prayers I shall proceed through St. Stephen's Hall and Westminster Hall to New Palace Yard followed by hon. Members, and thence drive at a walking pace to Buckingham Palace. I believe it has been usual for the bulk of hon. Members to follow on foot. [Cheers.] Those hon. Members, however, who wear levée dress frequently go in carriages. Of course, all hon. Members are at liberty if they choose to use carriages. I may add that going on foot materially facilitates the ingress to and egress from the Palace. After Her Majesty has received the Address I shall return directly to the House and report to the House Her Majesty's Gracious Answer to the Address. Afterwards, in accordance with the Motion about to be put, I shall adjourn the House at once without question put June 21 [50] 456

Commemoration Service

So far as the matter lies with me, I propose that the same course should be followed that was followed on the last occasion. That is, that I should enter the House from behind the Chair a quarter of an hour before the time fixed for service, which, in this case, is half-past 11, and that I should take my seat in the Clerk's chair for a few minutes. Then, that I should go into the Lobby, and, with the small procession which is usually formed on such an occasion, proceed through St. Stephen's Hall into Westminster Hall, where we should be joined by others who are not Members of this House. We should go through Westminster Hall into Palace Yard, and so to the west door of St. Margaret's Church. The usual course I believe, is for the Speaker to be followed immediately by the Privy Councillors, and the other Members of the House will follow them June 17 [50] 292.

I think any such Amendment would be unusual and irregular. The Motion must either be accepted or refused. It is a Motion that has been proposed in this form on every occasion that this House has attended St. Magaret's Church July 2, 979

Communications to the House

Mr. SPEAKER announced and read Communications from the Italian Parliament and People, and from the Argentine Republic June 23 [50] 482, 483

Questions

I should prefer not to answer a hypothetical question of that kind until I see what is really before the House Jan 22 [45] 292

That does not arise out of the question. The hon. Member proposes to ask a general question about the practice in England Jan 25, 402

The Question which stands in the name of the hon. Member for Macclesfield is irregular and ought not to appear on the Paper, because it refers to a previous Debate in this House, and questions a statement there made. But as the right hon. Gentleman the President of the Board of Trade, in answering a question of the right hon. Member for Thanet, did give a kind of anticipatory answer to the question of the hon. Member for Macclesfield, and went with great detail into what has taken place with reference to that Debate, I think it only fair that the hon. Member should be allowed to put his Question or ask the right hon. Gentleman any further question Feb 2, 1061

If a Minister refers to a particular document by quoting part of it, or stating what the effect of the contents of that particular document is, then the House is entitled to see the whole document. But I do not understand that any question of that kind arises here. A Minister is not bound, having stated, in answer to a question or otherwise, that there have been communications generally to such and such an effect with a foreign Government, to produce the document which would bear out his statement Feb 8, 1558

There is a great difference between specifically referring to communications generally and specifically referring to the contents of a particular document. Nothing of the latter kind seems to have taken place here Feb 8, 1558

Questions—cont.

I understand this to be a case in which the hon. Member states certain facts upon his own authority, and he must take the responsibility of doing so Feb 9 [46] 17

The hon. Member is going beyond the limits of a Question. He is arguing a question of procedure Feb 15, 408

I do not see the hon. Member for Northamptonshire in his place, but I am sure the hon. Member is the last person to wish to encourage a breach of the privileges of this House. His question really does tend to do that, because it invites the First Commissioner of Works to deal with matters which are entirely outside his cognisance. The hon. Member asks the First Commissioner of Works to make adequate arrangements for the Press, and to provide better accommodation. That is a matter entirely in the discretion of the Chairman of the Committee, and in connection with which the First Commissioner of Works has no duties whatever. The hon. Member also proceeds to ask whether the First Commissioner of Works would consider the advisability of changing the room in which the Committee is sitting to Committee-room No. 10. That is, of course, a matter entirely in the hands of the Serjeant-at-Arms and the officers of the House, and not within the cognisance of the First Commissioner of Works. Therefore, I would suggest that the question should not be put to the First Commissioner of Works Feb 19, 784

That does not arise out of the Question on the Paper. It is a Question of which the hon. Member might give the Under Secretary of State private notice, but it does not arise out of the Question on the Paper Feb 19, 788

In the point raised by the hon. Member it is obvious there is a hardship upon Members, but I cannot say there is any question of Order for me to decide Feb 19, 790

The Question on the Paper is a precise one about a very small local detail. It is not a general question Feb 22, 865

The hon. and learned Member has the same means as myself of finding out what Department is responsible. It is a little difficult to say Feb 22, 883

Certainly papers which have been laid on the Table and ordered to be printed ought to be printed and circulated at the earliest possible moment. I will inquire into the matter, and if I find I have any authority I shall be ready to exercise it Feb 22, 883

The hon. Gentleman must put down notice of the Question, if addressed to another Minister Feb 23, 983

If the hon. Member continues to interrupt the Business of the House I shall be compelled to request him to leave the House for the remainder of the Sitting Feb 25, 1150

Questions—cont.

The right hon. Gentleman has said he does not propose to give any further answer. He is at liberty to refuse to give a further answer if he chooses to do so Mar 5, [47] 60

The hon. Member seems to be under the impression that he can compel an answer. He has no right to compel any further answer if the right hon. Gentleman does not propose to give it Mar 5, 60

It is obvious that the Question of the hon. Member has reference to the same matter which was the subject of the last Question. I must not be taken as expressing any opinion about the facts of that case, for I do not know what the facts are; but, in answer to the general Question, I may say that I certainly consider that it would be an abuse of the privilege granted to any gentleman representing the Press in the Lobby, if he were to use that opportunity for the purpose of soliciting from Members signatures to public petitions or addresses of any kind. Unless I were otherwise instructed by the House, I should deem it my duty to prevent anything of the sort taking place if it were brought to my notice Mar 5, 65

The hon. Member will not be in order in asking what is established by the Blue-book Mar 8, 199

The hon. Member brought that Question to the Table, and was there told that it was out of order. If he were not satisfied, he should have appealed to me Mar 23, 1184

The hon. Member is not asking for information, but whether he may be permitted to hand a document to the Home Secretary. Of course, he is permitted to hand it without asking leave Mar 23, 1185

That is so. And it would be quite out of order for a Committee, or for the tribunal which, in the case of an unopposed Bill, takes the place of a Committee, to deal with the matter after I had ruled it out of order Mar 23, 1193

The hon. Member is not in order in reading a letter from a newspaper, and asking whether the right hon. Gentleman's attention has been called to it. If the hon. Gentleman vouches for certain facts, he can ask a Question on them Mar 25, 1310

I think it would have been better if a word less capable of an offensive meaning had been used Mar 29, 1540

I cannot say that that Question properly arises out of the answer of the right hon. Gentleman, and therefore notice of it should be given Mar 29, 1577

The hon. Member is replying to the answer which has been given and arguing upon it April 1 [48] 279

If the hon. Member persists so frequently in continuing to ask questions after I have risen and ruled them out of order, I shall have to call the attention of the House to the matter April 1, 280

Questions—cont.

Questions put merely for the purpose of satire are not in order April 1, 285

The Question which the hon. Gentleman is asking does not arise out of the Question on the Paper April 5, 530

The hon. Gentleman must take the statement of the right hon. Gentleman as to what his answer really was April 6, 619

The right hon. Gentleman has said that he is not in a position to answer the Question April 12, 956

The hon. Member for North Louth is entirely out of order in making suggestions of that kind. The hon. Member was stopped because he was arguing upon an answer. The hon. Member for West Belfast, as I understand, is strictly confining himself so far to the Question upon the Paper, and is stating that that Question has not been answered May 14 [49] 494

I am not aware there is any precedent, at least in modern times, for making an order on an individual Member to attend the House, except for the purpose either of giving evidence before a Committee, or attending upon a Committee, or obeying a previous order of the House or Committee, or to answer for some alleged breach of Privilege or Order. I say nothing about the power of the House to make such an order; but I would point out that it would be a very inconvenient course to make Motions with regard to individual Members, because it might lead to retaliatory Motions from other parts of the House May 17, 634

The hon. Member's Question does not arise out of the right hon. Gentleman's answer June 29 [50] 728

The statement as to there having been a murderous outrage at Poona is a statement of fact, which, if I recollect aright, has already been quoted in this House by a Minister of the Crown. As regards the latter part of the Question, I see nothing irregular in it July 1, 863

That is really arguing the question. The noble Lord has simply stated that there will be an inquiry into the matter, and that does not justify the hon. Member in arguing the question that there are other means which would make it unnecessary to hold such an inquiry July 1, 863

I have had some experience with reference to the process of revising the Standing Orders. It generally takes a good deal of time. The right hon. Member asked me what alteration was necessary. I must respectfully decline to draft an amendment to the Standing Orders at a moment's notice. July 9, 1476

I think I should be taking too much upon myself if I gave such directions. It has always been the practice to put down these Bills for consideration as amended on their being reported to the House. They then appear among the Orders of the Day, and if they have not yet been reprinted when the Order is called on, hon. Members have sometimes brought that fact to the attention of the Chair, which generally suggests that the Bill should not be taken until the House has had an opportunity of seeing and considering the Amendments made in Committee. But this is a matter in which the House must take care of itself July 9, 1476

The hon. Member is under a mistake in saying that such an Amendment can only be moved by the Government. I understand he is referring to an Amendment which would be out of order, because it would increase taxation. That would be out of order on the Report Stage from whatever portion of the House it was moved July 12, 1602

The fact that the hon. Member thinks it is extortion, as I presume he does, would not make it in order to characterise the state of facts as such on the Paper, and it is not a proper phrase to use in a Question July 20 [51] 568

That does not arise out of the right hon. Gentleman's answer. The hon. Member had better put his Question down for another day July 20, 571

I quite agree that as a general rule in Questions of this kind notice should be given to persons affected by them July 20, 575

I must call attention to the growing practice, when a Question is asked with regard to the conduct of the Mahomedans in Crete at one particular place, to meet it by asking a counter-question with regard to the conduct of the Christians in another place. The one does not arise out of the other July 22, 727

Questions which are obviously in the nature of an advertisement ought not to be put upon the Paper, but I am not prepared to say that that is the case here July 26, 1066

I think I remember a precedent in the present Session, but it is not a question of Order. The right hon. Gentleman is at liberty to give such information as he thinks proper Aug 3 [52] 242

Rules and Order of Debate

I must remind the hon. Member that the question before the House is not the propriety of the conduct of the Home Secretary in releasing those who have been released, but as to whether those who are still prisoners should be released Jan 20 [45] 131

I must remind the hon. Member that he must not discuss matters that might arise upon the Amendment given notice of by the hon. Member for Salford Jan 20, 134

The observations of the hon. Member are not pertinent to the Amendment before the House. The hon. Member is not entitled to discuss the general question of the mode of prosecuting criminals in Ireland or elsewhere Jan 20, 135

I have not hitherto interrupted the right hon. Gentleman in dealing with the case of the four prisoners released, because a good many observations had been incidentally made about them. I hope, however, the right hon. Gentleman will not further argue their case upon an Amendment which does not really raise it Jan 20, 147

The whole of this discussion on the case of Bell is foreign to the question before the House. An hon. Member referred to the case of Bell, not for the purpose of arguing the merits of the case, but merely as an illustration. To that there was no objection, and, the matter having been referred to, the Home Secretary thought it right to give an explanation of what was stated by that hon. Member. The question of the prosecution of this man has really nothing to do with the question before the House Jan 20, 153

The hon. and learned Member is really going too far in entering upon these matters. They do not apply at all to the question of the Amendment Jan 21, 227

The hon. Member is a long way from the Amendment, which deals with the fall in the value of agricultural produce and the remedies proposed Jan 21, 239

The question of Irish taxation does not arise in the Amendment. It has been reserved for discussion on another day Jan 21, 246

The hon. Gentleman is now discussing the conduct of the Government with reference to the existing famine and plague in India. That is not raised in the Amendment. The Amendment only deals with the predisposing causes of the famine and plague Jan 26, 548

These personal questions are a long way from the Amendment before us Jan 26, 550

The policy of Lord Beaconsfield in the East is not raised on this Motion, and has nothing to do with the sending of a special envoy to the Turkish Government Jan 26, 584

It will be observed that Mr. Speaker Peel said there it was not a question of order. Moreover, he was speaking after the Second Reading of the Bill had been moved, and a Motion for the Adjournment had been made. It was only a question as to whether or not he ought to consider that Motion as an abuse of the Rules of the House. The time for raising such a point has not yet come Jan 27, 646

I cannot put that Motion, considering that the discussion has not lasted an hour, and that the Bill only came from the printers after the hour when the House met Jan 27, 658

I hope the hon. Gentleman will be able to conclude his speech without so many colloquies across the floor of the House Jan 28, 746

An Amendment of which notice must be given can only be moved by the hon. Member who put it down Jan 29, 823

The hon. Member is entitled to use the argument that he objects to this Vote because nothing has been said about an equivalent grant for Scotland, but he cannot go beyond that Feb 4, 1343

The hon. Member cannot enter upon the general question of the financial relations Feb 4, 1410

The hon. Gentleman has taken two objections. The first is as to the description of the Vote on the Paper. The Vote is, in fact, a Vote for the service of the year ending 31st March 1897, supplemental or additional to those Votes which have been already dealt with for that year, and that it is so sufficiently appears on the Paper. I think there is no doubt that if this, instead of being an additional Estimate, formed part of the original Estimates, it would appear upon the Civil Service Estimates. As regards the suggestion that it is a new matter altogether, and should be dealt with as a separate and original, and not supplemental, Vote, plenty of cases are to be found in which additional Estimates of this kind have been voted by the House upon notices similar to this. In March 1895 there was a grant in aid for Cyprus—a matter upon which there had been no previous opportunity of discussion upon the Estimates. That was brought on in March as an additional Estimate just as this is brought on here. Therefore, as regards that part of the hon. Member's contention the matter is perfectly in order. As regards the other point, that there should be a Motion that I now leave the Chair, with opportunity for Debate before I leave the Chair, I think that objection also is groundless. The Standing Order LVI., to which the hon. Member refers, expressly says that, "Whenever Committee of Supply stands as an Order of the Day on Monday or Thursday," or now, under the Sessional Order, on Friday, "Mr. Speaker shall leave the Chair without question put." To-day, Committee of Supply is an Order of the Day, and therefore the Standing Order compels me to leave the Chair without question put. The invariable practice has been, that when the Motion has been carried "That Mr. Speaker do now leave the Chair," upon first going into the Estimates, any additional or supplementary Vote in Committee of Supply afterwards for a further expenditure in that year, is put to the Committee without the question being put that I leave the Chair. Therefore I think that the notice and procedure are quite in order, and I shall now leave the Chair without putting any question Feb 5, 1438

As some Members appear to object to my leaving the Chair, it is desirable that I should explain why it is not competent for them to do so. Standing Order No. LI compels me to leave the Chair, on the Order for the Committee being read, unless there is a Notice of Instruction on the Paper. There are two Notices of Instruction on the Paper, but these being Instructions that are not valid I may—in accordance with previous and, if I may respectfully say so, correct ruling from the Chair—treat them as nullities and step out of the Chair at once. But the more usual and convenient course is that I should first make a statement as to the reasons why they are not valid Instructions. Therefore, I will say that the Instruction of the hon. Member for Caithness is out of order, in the first place because it is a mandatory injunction to a Committee of the Whole House, and, in the second place, because the subject-matter of it may be dealt with by way of Amendment. The Instruction of the hon. and gallant Member for Torquay is bad, so far as it relates to women's votes, because it may be made the subject of an Amendment; and in so far as it relates to taking away men's votes it is bad as being outside the scope of the Bill. Both Instructions are bad, and that being so, under the provisions of Standing Order No. LI, I am obliged to leave the Chair forthwith Feb 8, 1638

Either the Second Reading of the Bill is objected to or it is not. If it be objected to either absolutely or conditionally it must stand over until to-morrow Feb 10 [46] 70

The Bill alters the register by enabling persons to get on the register on different terms from those on which they could previously be on it. Therefore, I think that the Instruction is in order as an Instruction, although I think an Instruction is required Feb 11, 152

The hon. Gentleman is not in order in discussing the question whether the Bill should have been postponed or not Feb 11, 192

I have great difficulty in hearing what the hon. Gentleman is saying, but I am under the impression that he is out of order Feb 11, 194

I did not see the hon. Member rise, although I was looking in his direction. When I did see him I had already collected the opinions of both sides of the House Feb 11, 200

I understand that the hon. Member gave instructions at the Table that this Bill should be postponed to a particular date Feb 12, 368

The hon. Member having given instructions at the Table that the Bill was to be put down for a particular date, he is not in a position to move now, because other hon. Members may have been misled Feb 12, 368

The hon. Member is not in order in referring thus to a speech delivered in the other House. He will be in order in referring to the fact that a statement was made, but not in commenting upon it Feb 16, 519

I must say that this discussion in regard to what took place yesterday as to the Papers is remote from the urgent matter of public importance which is under discussion Feb 16, 531

I hope the hon. Member will see that the House is impatient. The hon. Member stood waiting until there was quiet restored. I am afraid that to get complete quiet at the present hour and in the present state of the House is quite impossible. I trust that the hon. Member will not, in the present temper of the House, prolong his remarks unduly Feb 16, 606

When it was last before the House I said I thought the Instruction was in order, and before doing so I had looked at the Bill and considered the point the hon. Member referred to. I think the Instruction is in order Feb 17, 613

The Instruction standing in the name of the right hon. Gentleman the Member for South Dublin is in order because it is mandatory, and only for that reason; but I hope, under the circumstances, the right hon. Gentleman and the House will not think I am stepping outside my province if I advise him very strongly not to move this Instruction, but to wait until the matter comes before the Committee, and then, if he object to what be done in the Committee, to raise his objection on the Report stage. There is a growing practice of putting on the Paper as the subject of an Instruction matters which do not involve simply a question of principle, but which go into matters of detail, the proper subject of Amendments in Committee, and are only in order as Instructions because they are mandatory. For example, the present Bill, so far as the water question is concerned, proposes to fix the prices at which water should be sold to the different townships around Dublin. These prices are fixed at 2½d. and 3½d. per thousand gallons, and so forth, and were so fixed, I presume, after due consideration by those who prepared the Bill. What the right hon. Gentleman is proposing to do is to instruct the Committee beforehand, when the matter comes before them, not to hear evidence as to the propriety of the proposal so made after careful consideration by the promoters of the Bill, but to sanction a totally different scheme for fixing the price without giving the promoters the opportunity of bringing their evidence before the Committee. Although, as I say, the right hon. Gentleman has put himself in order by making the Instruction mandatory, it seems to me that the course he suggests is entirely contrary to all sound practice of the House in regard to private Bills, and I hope the right hon. Gentleman will see fit not to move this as an Instruction, but will bring his case forward before the Committee, and then take the opinion of of the House upon it on the Report stage, stage, if he think it necessary Feb 17, 623

I do not think it is out of order, because I cannot say that the principle of the Bill is to fix the price of water at 2½d., or 3½d., or at any particular figure. The principle of the Bill is to fix and settle the terms on which the water supply shall be made from Dublin to the townships around. But the actual figures are not the principle of the Bill, and it is competent for the Committee, by an Amendment, to say: "We will not fix the prices at 2½d. or 3½d., but make it a question of arbitration." That is what the right hon. Gentleman proposes to do, but I hope, for the reasons I have given, that he will not move the Instruction Feb 17, 624

The second Instruction is out of order, because it proposes that it should be an Instruction to the Committee to establish a water trust in Dublin. That is an entirely new subject-matter, and ought to be the subject of a new Bill Feb 17, 625

I must remind the hon. Member that there is no question of increasing the Army in this Bill Feb 18, 747

The Motion can be changed, no doubt, by using the words, "Cretan insurgents," or whatever the fact is—I do not know myself—but I do not think it is necessary to make the change, as Cretans are, in one sense, Greek. Is the hon. Gentleman supported by forty Members? Feb 22, 890

I must remind the hon. Gentleman that he is speaking of a friendly Sovereign; and it is one of the rules of the House to speak of a friendly Sovereign with the same decency of language as would be employed in speaking of a Member of this House or of the other House Feb 22, 892

I must remind the hon. Member that last week there was a discussion on the general policy of the Government in the matter of Crete, and it is a rule of the House that the same question cannot be twice debated in the same Session on a Motion for Adjournment. The present Motion refers to the firing on Greek forces by British war vessels at Canea, and to that point the hon. Member must confine himself Feb 22, 894

I cannot give a general direction to the hon. Member beforehand; but the question whether five people were baked in an oven is not relevant to the matter before the House. I must call the hon.

Gentleman's attention to the words of the Motion, which relate to the firing on the Greek forces by Her Majesty's ships, and I trust he will confine himself to what bears upon that question Feb 22, 895

The hon. Gentleman is going outside the question before the House. I am quite aware there has been considerable latitude in this discussion, but I think the remarks of the hon. Gentleman are too remote from the Motion Feb 22, 915

The right hon. Baronet has correctly stated the Standing Order, and the course I always endeavour to pursue. But sometimes I am anticipated by the House. I always first put the question whether it be the pleasure of the House that the Adjournment should be moved, and the proper course for hon. Members is to retain their seats and say "Yes" or "No." If there be no negative the House is taken to consent generally to the discussion. Hon. Members might differ upon the subject-matter of the proposed discussion, and yet agree that it was a proper subject for discussion. So I hope hon. Members will strictly observe the Standing Order, and, on the question whether it be their pleasure that leave be given, retain their seats, only rising in case of a negative, on my putting the further question whether the hon. Member who wished to move the Adjournment has the requisite support Feb 23, 986

There are several Instructions to the Committee on this Bill on the Order Paper. The first is in the name of the hon. Member for South Molton (Mr. Lambert). It introduces a subject that appears to me to be foreign to the subjects dealt with in the Bill, and on that ground it is out of order. The next Instruction stands in the name of the hon. Member for Anglesey (Mr. Ellis Griffith). That proposes to provide that as a condition for receiving the grant no teacher in a Voluntary School shall be required to perform any extraneous—i.e. non-educational — duty. Such a proposal would be in order as an Amendment to the Bill, and therefore it is out of order as an Instruction. The next Instruction which stands upon the Paper is also in the name of the hon. Member for Anglesey, and proposes to make provision for the absence of religious tests for pupil teachers in Voluntary Schools. That appears to me to enter upon matter which is foreign to the whole scope of the Bill. The Bill is one for affording relief to Voluntary Schools. The term "Voluntary Schools" is substantially convertible with the term "Denominational Schools," and to give an Instruction to a Committee on a Bill for the relief of Voluntary Schools to undenominationalise them would be not only foreign to, but contrary to, the whole scope of the Bill. The next Instruction stands in the name of the hon. Member for Carnarvon (Mr. Lloyd-George). He proposes that the Committee should have power to insert clauses in the Bill for making provision for insuring adequate representation of local authorities or parents on the management of schools in receipt of the aid grant. That appears to me to be in order as an Instruction. The Bill proposes that certain associations representative of the managers of the schools associated together should be the machinery for distributing the grant in aid, and the Instruction proposes to alter and amend the constitution of these managing bodies. As this is a very large proposal, which only bears indirectly on one of the subjects of the Bill, and as it raises a new principle not hitherto brought under the consideration of the House, it cannot be entertained without an Instruction. The next Instruction stands in the name of the hon. Member for Walsall (Mr. Gedge). It proposes to enable the managers of Voluntary Schools to contract with School Boards for the supply of the education required by the Education Code to such children and on such terms as to payment, inspection, representation, or otherwise, as may be agreed between them. That does not relate, it appears to me, either to the relief of Voluntary Schools or to the distribution of the grant in aid. Whether it is a matter that requires legislation or not I do not know, but if it does not require legislation it will have to be done by a separate Bill. The next Instruction stands in the name of the hon. Member for Northamptonshire (Mr. Channing). That Instruction in effect proposes to destroy altogether the existing form of management of Voluntary Schools, and to set up in its place elected authorities in districts where there is no School Board. It also proposes to give powers to the School Boards, with which this Bill is not concerned, to prepare schemes for their districts. Both branches appear to me to be outside of the scope of the Bill and out of order. Therefore the only Instruction which is in order is that of the hon. Member for Carnarvon Feb 25, 1154

Such an Amendment would require an Instruction, and the Instruction standing in the name of the hon. Member for Carnarvon covers the case Feb 25, 1156

The ordinary Rule of the House is, that, when a Motion such as that of the hon. Member has been put on the Paper, it operates, so far as the question of anticipation goes, until it ceases to appear on the Paper. The hon. Gentleman's statement that he intends to withdraw has not, under the existing procedure of the House, any effect Mar 1, 1350

It certainly is not in the Standing Orders. It is a practice of the House which has been acted upon, and the practice of the House, as the right hon. gentleman knows, when acted upon for years, is as binding upon the House as a Standing Order Mar 1, 1350

Of course, it is obvious that there are occasions when the practice would operate inconveniently. It is not for me to say whether, on the whole, it operates inconveniently or not. Certainly, if the House thinks fit to alter the rule, I shall not offer any advice to the contrary Mar 1, 1351

I think there is more than that. The right hon. Gentleman will find that there is such a consensus of practice upon the point for many years past that it is one of the ordinary Rules of the House and part of the ordinary procedure of the House. The right hon. Gentleman well knows that many of our Rules are not to be found in print or in Standing Orders; and this is a practice which has become part of what I may call the common law of Parliament. To alter a long-continued practice at common law requires a statute; and in the same way an alteration in the common law of Parliament cannot be effected on the sole authority of the Speaker, who is not the maker, but only the administrator, of the Laws of this House Mar 1, 1351

Where you want to alter the practice of the House it would be more convenient to do so by Standing Order. At the same time the House has sometimes acted by a Resolution. It is a matter for consideration what course should be followed Mar 1, 1351

I do not think the hon. Member is exceeding the limits of Debate. I do not think the observation was in the nature of a personal insult Mar 2, 1479

I have already said that I did not think the hon. Member had exceeded the limits of Debate. If I thought he had I would have called upon him to withdraw Mar 2, 1479

The Instruction of the hon. Member is out of order. The Provisional Orders (No. 1) Bill merely enables the town of Kilkenny to take compulsory powers to acquire land for waterworks. An Instruction proposing to extend the municipal franchise would be out of order on that Bill, and therefore I cannot put it Mar 4, 1571

I am quite clear that it is out of order. As to the case of Armagh, which the hon. Gentleman mentions, the Instruction was not withdrawn until I had ruled it out of order. In the course of the Debate on the Second Reading the hon. Member who had put down the Instruction asked me whether it was in order. I said it was not, and that is the reason it was withdrawn. What happened in Committee upon that Bill was not brought under my notice. If it had been I might possibly have had something to say on the subject. As far as any statement in this House as to what took place in the Committee is concerned, I hear it now for the first time. As regards the Dublin Corporation Bill, the hon. Member who moved that Instruction gave me an assurance very similar to that which has just been given by the hon. Member for Kilkenny—namely, that it was an unopposed Instruction, and was moved by general consent; and as it was an Instruction on a matter which had been much debated in the House, and as I understood from what was stated in the House, without any contradiction, that it was in the nature of a compromise on a subject which it was desirable to settle, and as everyone was agreed upon it, I allowed the Instruction to pass. But I expressly stated that I doubted very much whether it was in order, and that nothing, except the assurance that the Instruction was unopposed, would have induced me to have allowed it to pass. Therefore it cannot in any way be taken as a precedent, and certainly the results of allowing it to go on are not such as to encourage further experiments in the same direction. I am quite clear that this Instruction is out of order Mar 4, 1572

The remarks of the hon. Gentleman are hardly pertinent to the question, which is whether it is desirable to remove the duty of protecting coaling stations from the Military to the Marines Mar 5 [47] 133

That is a question which may have to be discussed before the Committee. It is not the question before the House now Mar 8, 171

The hon. Member is entering into details which are not justified by the question before the House Mar 8, 172

Certainly this is no question of order, as was pointed out by Mr. Speaker in the case of Mr. Ross in 1893 Mar 8, 252

If there be plenty of time, I would suggest to the hon. Member that it would be very inconvenient to the House to discuss the Rules without their being printed. It is very analogous to the case of a Bill which has not been printed before it comes on for Second Reading. It is impossible for an hon. Member who has not seen, and has had no opportunity of seeing, these Rules to understand them or to see the bearing of each particular Rule without reference to the context of the other Rules, and therefore I suggest to the hon. Member that it is for the convenience of the House, as well as for himself, that he should postpone the further discussion of this matter until the few days have elapsed in which the Rules may be in the hands of Members Mar 11, 540

I do not quite know what is the position of Mr. O'Brien. I understand he is not a Judge of the High Court. I do not think that in anything he has said the right

hon. and learned Gentleman has gone beyond the proper limits of Debate Mar 11, 546

The question before the House is not whether the Rules were laid on the Table at the proper time, but whether the specific Rules in question shall be annulled. Mar 11, 549

I have always understood that the suspension for half an hour was not an indulgence which was granted by the House to itself, but was in the nature of a concession to the natural infirmities of the occupant of the Chair, who would otherwise have to remain in his place for nine or ten consecutive hours. I have looked at the Debate which took place in 1888, and it does not appear to me that Mr. Smith was proposing in what he said to deal with exceptional cases such as may arise when the Chairman and the Speaker both obtain the necessary intermission without the operation of the half-hour's suspension. Therefore, it appears to me that when the Speaker and the Chairman both of them are in that position, either of them is justified in continuing the Sitting without interruption of business unless he is otherwise ordered by the House. That I take to have been the practice, and I consider that to be still the practice, notwithstanding what passed in 1888. But there is another consideration to which I would call the attention of the House—namely, that the occasions when such a situation arises are extremely rare, and that when they do occur they probably cause inconvenience to some Members of the House by taking them by surprise. Therefore, though I have stated what I consider to be the practice which justifies the Speaker or the Chairman in continuing the sitting, I think it is desirable that some more fixed Rule should be acted on by the House. There is some difficulty in precisely fixing the Rule, because there are cases when I think the House would agree that it is desirable that the Chair should not be too closely pinned down. For example, sometimes the business before the House gets through with unexpected rapidity, so that by sitting on until half-past 9 or 10 o'clock, the whole of the business is disposed of without the Speaker or Chairman leaving the Chair at all. There must be freedom to the Chair to deal with cases of that kind, but, subject to that general supervision which the Chair exercises over the business of the House, I shall certainly make it my practice—one which will, I hope, meet with the general assent of the House—when the business of the House is going to last till 12 o'clock, to see that there is an interval of half an hour. In making that statement I must not be understood as saying a word in derogation of anything which has been done or held hitherto in this House. I have stated what I consider the practice has been up to this time, but I think more will be gained by laying down a more fixed Rule than is gained by saving perhaps half an hour in the course of a Session. I shall follow the practice I have suggested, reserving it to myself and to the Chairman on special occasions, such as I have mentioned, to regulate the business of the House in such a way as to meet the general convenience. Mar 12, 579

I have considered carefully this Bill, and I am of opinion that there is no case calling for interference on my part at this stage. The questions raised by the hon. Member are no doubt very important and worthy of the consideration of the House, but they are not matters which would justify me in refusing to submit the Bill for the consideration of the House on Second Reading. The main object of this Bill is to extend the boundaries of a borough, and that is a proper subject for a private Bill. No doubt in all such cases there are changes in local government, and the changes proposed by this Bill are perhaps more complicated and more numerous than usual; yet that does not justify me in interposing to prevent the House from expressing its opinion on the Second Reading. I therefore leave the matter to the consideration of the House Mar 22, 1078

I think that the Question of the franchise in the City of London is outside this Bill Mar 22, 1079

I have already proposed the Question that the House agree with the Committee. The hon. Member cannot move a reduction. He can vote against the Resolution Mar 22, 1165

I beg that hon. Members will not interrupt the right hon. Gentleman who is in possession of the House Mar 29, 1649

If the hon. Gentleman means to say that the right hon. Gentleman stated what he knows was not true, of course it would be entirely out of order; but I did not understand the hon. Gentleman to imply that Mar 29, 1661

If I knew the hon. Member who made use of that expression, I should call the attention of the House to his conduct Mar 29, 1667

The hon. Member must not use expressions of that kind in reference to an hon. Member sitting in this House Mar 29, 1672

I could not accept that Motion. The Chief Secretary has stated his views as a private Member, and for the hon. Member, after the Debate has begun to draw to a close, to move the Adjournment of the Debate in order to allow the right hon. Member to have the opportunity of reconsidering his views would be an abuse of the Rules of the House Mar 30 [48] 93

I have no business to consider what action will be taken on the subsequent clauses. I can only say that this Motion for an

[cont.

Adjournment is an abuse of the Rules of the House Mar 30, 93

I cannot see that the observations of the hon. Member are relevant to the Amendment before the House, which relates only to the Financial Relations between England and Ireland, and not to the question how Ireland is to be improved Mar 30, 160

It will be my duty, assuming that the Motion, "That the words proposed to be left out stand part of the Question," be defeated, to put the Question, "That those words be there inserted." If any Debate arise that Question cannot be put unless the Closure be moved and carried Mar 31, 242

The question of the division of rates has been disposed of by the decision of the House on the Amendment, and that cannot be discussed again April 1, 307

The question of what employment will be given on the building has nothing to do with the purchase of the site April 1, 332.

That is not relevant to the matter under discussion. The hon. Member is entitled to make his protest, but he cannot go into foreign questions April 1, 334

I must ask the hon. Gentleman to withdraw the expression. It is a most improper expression to use April 1, 336

The Secretary to the Treasury was explaining a Treasury Bill, and the hon. Member interrupted him and said it was a Treasury swindle. That is a most improper expression April 1, 336

Whatever the hon. Member meant, it was an improper expression to use, and I hope he will withdraw it April 1, 336

The hon. Gentleman made use of the expression, while the Secretary to the Treasury was speaking, and if it were nothing else it was a disorderly interruption. I must ask him to withdraw the expression April 1, 337

I think that Motion is an abuse of the Rules of the House. I have the alternative of either refusing it, or taking an immediate Division upon it, and I adopt the latter course April 1, 345

The Bill has been before the Examiners, and they have certified that on all those matters of which they have cognisance the Standing Orders have been complied with. Therefore it is ripe for Second Reading April 1, 346

I think the Amendment is not in order. This is a Motion which must be made according to the regular practice of the House in the case of a public Bill which seeks private Bill powers April 1, 347

This is not done in lieu of sending the Bill to the Standing Committee. This is a proceeding which the ordinary practice of the House provides in order that persons whose private rights are affected may have an opportunity of appearing and being heard. After the Bill has been before the Committee, it will come back for consideration by a Committee of the whole House. April 1, 349

The use of the word "alleged" is improper if it were used in the sense, as it seemed to me that it was, of suggesting that something stated by the right hon. Gentleman was not true. As to the word "fraud" in connection with the Treasury such words are extremely objectionable in Debate; but, unless they amount to a specific personal allegation against an hon. Member, they are hardly out of order. The action of the Government, as a whole, can be denounced in much stronger language than can be used about an individual Member of the House. But the hon. and learned Member goes extremely near the line April 1, 352

That is not in question upon this Bill, which is only a Superannuation Bill. There is no question as to who shall pay the salary or who shall appoint April 5, 587

The Bill was referred to a Select Committee, in accordance with the invariable practice of the House where private Bill powers are sought by a public Bill April 5, 590

That Motion is not one for the nomination, but for the appointment, of the Committee. The nomination will be subsequently moved April 5, 590

The hon. Member is not keeping to the question before the House. The question of the effect of Protection upon the agricultural labourer is not the question before the House April 6, 664

This Bill was passed by a very large majority last Session, and a Motion to refer it to a Select Committee was defeated by the operation of the Half-past Five o'clock Rule. It has been very fully discussed this afternoon, and, therefore, I think I am justified in now accepting the Motion April 7, 710

I must point out that the merits of the scheme cannot be discussed. The only question which can properly be raised is whether an irregularity should be put right, and that without reference to whether the scheme is a good or a bad scheme April 8, 762

This is a Bill for the purpose of removing an irregularity, and of giving the House an opportunity of discussing the merits of the scheme on a future day April 8, 767

I have not referred to "Hansard," and do not know in what context or under what circumstances those observations were made; but, having fully considered this Bill—I do not know whether it is the same Bill—I am clearly of opinion that the merits of the scheme cannot be discussed April 8, 767

The hon. Member cannot, after my ruling, proceed to argue on the merits of the scheme by quotation from, and comment on, an article in a periodical April 8, 774

Perhaps I had better state first my recollection of what actually did take place at the last Sitting of the House. The Bill referred to passed through Committee after a discussion of some two hours, and when I came into the Chair, the Motion was made "That the Bill be now read the Third time." No objection was taken on the point of order to the Third Reading, but the hon. Member for Caithness immediately rose in his place, and proceeded to move that the Bill be read a Third time that day six months. An hon. Member, in supporting that Amendment, did object, not by way of raising a question of order, but as a matter of argument, to the Third Reading being taken the same night of a Bill which, he said, was a contentious Bill. Therefore the particular point which the right hon. Gentleman now takes was never raised. But as the right hon. Gentleman asks me what my ruling would have been, assuming objection had been taken, I may say that I do not understand the Rule to be as broad as he seems to suggest. There is no absolute Rule that the Third Reading cannot be taken immediately after the Report without the universal assent of the House. It is the more ordinary practice of the House—which, probably, it would desire to continue in the majority of cases—that only one stage should be taken at a time; and, in the case of a really contentious Bill, debated between the two sides of the House, two stages should not be taken at the same Sitting. With regard to the ruling to which the right hon. Gentleman referred, in which Mr. Speaker Peel gave an opinion that it was not a question of leave like the withdrawing of a Motion, but of the vote of the House, I think that correctly states what is the Rule of the House. If the question be proposed and objection be raised, the House then has the right to determine whether it will take the Third Reading or not. I do not think that that question has been pressed against objection taken, except in cases where there has been something exceptional in the extent or character of the opposition. The decision of Mr. Speaker Peel seems to me to have carefully laid down what the Rule is; and I may point out that since then, as lately as June 2, 1892, when the Clergy Discipline Immorality Bill was before the House, and when there was no urgency, there was a Debate on the Report stage, and several Amendments were moved and Divisions taken by a minority limited in number. After the conclusion of the Report stage, the Third Reading of the Bill was asked for. The question was put, and there was a Division, when the question was carried by 135 to 14 votes. And there are other precedents. As regards the other point raised—namely, that the particular Resolution under which the House sat upon that Monday prevented the proceedings of which the right hon. Gentleman complained—I may point out that that Rule did not prevent anything from being done which could in ordinary circumstances have been done under the Order for the Committee on the Bill. If there had been no such Resolution on that Order being called, and the Committee stage taken, and Report made without amendment, the Third Reading might have been moved and taken. There was, therefore, nothing in the Resolution which could prevent the House from disposing of all business which could under ordinary circumstances have been dealt with under that particular Order of the Day. For these reasons I think that the proceedings were in order April 26, 1079

The Question put by the hon. Member on the paper called my particular attention to the terms of the Standing Order, and on consideration of them I have come to the conclusion that a vote of the House taken under that Standing Order is not a Division. [Cheers.] The Standing Order provides that the Speaker or Chairman, after calling on the Ayes and Noes to rise in their places, shall "either declare the determination of the House or name Tellers for a Division, and, in case there is no Division, shall declare to the House or Committee the number of the minority who had challenged his decision, and their names shall be thereupon taken down in the House and printed with the list of Divisions." The effect appears to me that it is a vote of the House, the result of which is declared from the Chair without any Division. It is a technical point, but that, I think, is the effect of the Standing Order. The Standing Order no doubt requires that the names of those who voted in the minority shall be printed with the list of Divisions, but such record ought not to be numbered or reckoned as a Division. [Cheers.] I shall give directions that in future the practice of printing it as a Division be discontinued April 29, 1248

The Bill relates to the Service Franchise only, whilst the Instruction proposes to alter another Franchise, and it is therefore outside the scope of the Bill May 3, 1510

The only question before us is the alleged inequality in the treatment of Ireland in the matter of agricultural rating. It seems to me that the hon. Member is now arguing a much wider question May 6, 1626

The Instruction to the Committee of which the noble Lord the Member for Rochester has given notice, to enable the Education

Department to check the increase of the sum expended per scholar for maintenance under any School Board receiving a contribution under the Bill, is out of order, because its object may be obtained by an Amendment. The other Instruction standing on the Paper in the name of the hon. Member for Glamorganshire, providing for the payment of arrears under Section 97 of the Act of 1870, is also out of order, because its object is to increase the grant which was voted in Committee, and it would be quite out of order as an Instruction.

[While Mr. SPEAKER was delivering the above Ruling, several Members passed down the floor of the House amid cries of "Order!" Sir HENRY FOWLER: "I wish to ask you, Sir, whether it is not one of the Standing Orders of the House that when you rise in the Chair every Member should remain seated?" Mr. SPEAKER replied:]

That is the Rule, and it is important in the interests of the order and decency of the proceedings of the House that it should be observed May 10 [49] 122

It is out of order to refer to the Debate, and the hon. Member is not only referring to it, but is replying to a speech by the Lord Chancellor May 11, 222

The numbers being equal, it is my duty to vote, and in accordance with the usual practice of the Chair in such circumstances, I shall give my vote in such a way as will afford the House another opportunity of taking a decision on this matter. I therefore give my vote with the Ayes, and declare that the Ayes have it May 11, 262

As the Tellers are agreed that there was a mistake, if the hon. Member will from his place move that the Journals of the House be corrected accordingly, I have no doubt that the House will agree to the Motion May 12, 265

I must remind the hon. Member, as I have reminded another hon. Member, that the question is not the employment of criminals in English prisons, but the importation of goods made in prisons abroad May 13, 417

I cannot see how an examination of the scheme of a particular company can be entered upon on the Second Reading of this Bill May 17, 680

I do not see how that arises on this Bill. Of course, the hon. Member is entitled to argue that the present schemes of railway companies are schemes which would or would not be allowed by the Registrar of Friendly Societies, but that is really the only point which arises in regard to contracting out May 17, 680

The Money Committee (there is no question of the Committee of Ways and Means) for authorising the grant of Money for the expenses involved in the Bill must be taken before the third section of the second schedule is reached. That is the charging part of the Bill. All that the first clause of the Bill says is that compensation is to be settled by arbitration "in accordance with the second schedule to this Act." That does not fix what the terms of the second schedule are to be. Those are to be settled after the first clause has been passed, and when the second schedule is reached. There is nothing in the first clause to say that the terms of the second schedule shall be the identical terms in which it stands The House may alter it, or even strike out the power to refer to any one of the County Court Judges, and the consequent charges; but no charge can be dealt with by the Committee under that third clause of the second schedule until a Resolution in a Money Committee has been passed May 24, 1151

There are several Instructions on the Paper with reference to the First Order of the Day, Workmen (Compensation for Accidents) Bill. These I will now deal with. The first Instruction, standing in the name of the hon. Member for Carmarthen Boroughs, and the two which stand in the name of the hon. Member for Mid Glamorgan, propose to deal with the relations of lessors and lessees of mines. That subject, I think, is outside the scope of the Bill, which relates wholly to the relations of employers and employed, nor does the fact that the lessee happens to be the employer of a workman in a mine affect the point. The Amendment standing in the name of the hon. Member for Bethnal Green, and also that of the hon. Member for Northumberland (Tyneside)—the one proposing a scheme of insurance under State supervision, and the other a scheme for State insurance—are both out of order as being outside the scope of the Bill and involving a charge on the revenue. Then there is the Instruction of the hon. Member for North Monmouth, which seeks to insert clauses with a view to amend the law of employers' liability in respect of those trades or industries to which the Bill does not apply. At present the Bill only applies to certain trades, and it will be competent to hon. Members to propose to add other trades, but it will not be competent by Instruction or otherwise to deal by way of Amendment with the law relating to trades which are excluded from the Bill, both as it stands at present and as it ultimately may stand. The Instruction standing in the name of the hon. Member for Berwickshire proposes to empower the Committee to insert provisions to secure compensation to workmen for injuries to health arising out of, and in the course of, their employment. If the Bill were not expressly limited on the face of it to injuries arising from accidents I should have said that that matter might have been dealt with by way of Amendment without an Instruction; but, having regard to the express terms of the Bill, I am of opinion that the Instruction is necessary and it is in order. The Amendment of the hon. Member for York proposes to introduce provisions to abolish the doctrine of common employment as affecting the right to compensation. As regards any trades that are included in, or may be added to, the list in the Bill, of course that might be done by Amendment, and no Instruction is necessary; as regards other trades, the Instruction would not be in order, as the law affecting them is outside the scope of the Bill. The Amendment of the hon. Member for St. Helens, dealing with the case of employers who may be financially unable to pay compensation, is out of order, because the matter can be dealt with by way of Amendment. The Amendment of the hon. Member for the Brigg Division is out of order. It proposes to insert clauses to provide for the compensation of workmen where the employer is a foreign shipowner without assets in this country. Seamen are not at present included in the Bill; if it be intended to include them, such inclusion can only cover the case of seamen employed in the United Kingdom or on British ships. For that no Instruction would be necessary. If it be intended to cover the case of seamen employed by foreign shipowners on foreign ships, that would be outside the scope of an Instruction, if not altogether outside the powers of Parliament. That disposes of all the Instructions except that of the hon. Member for Berwickshire May 24, 1153

[Rulings re Suspension of Mr. JOHN REDMOND May 28, 1540]

The hon. Member is probably aware that in the cases of private Bills, it is not at all uncommon for statements to be circulated on one side and on the other, and I do not think that the hon. Gentleman has laid before the House anything in the nature of a Breach of Privilege. With regard to the circular in question having been distributed in the Central Lobby, I must say I do not think the Lobby is the right place for circulating such documents. I will, at all events, make inquiries and see that no attempts of an objectionable kind are made to canvass Members in the Lobby June 1 [50] 6

The hon. Member's remarks hardly bear on the question before the House. If the Bill were referred to a Select Committee it would afterwards come before a Committee of the Whole House in the ordinary way, when the hon. Member would have an opportunity for his remarks June 21, 478

I must call attention to the fact that it is irregular to interpose a statement between business appointed "at the commencement of Public Business" and the Orders of the

The hon. Member is discussing the merits of the Bill itself to an extent beyond what is admissible under this Motion June 28, 668

The Amendment of the hon. Member for Renfrew seems to me to be out of order, being outside the scope of the Bill. It is impossible to introduce in this Bill an Amendment to deprive a large class of persons, who are neither the employers nor the employed, of their common law rights July 5, 1145

The workman may sue the third person, and the Bill only gives the employer the same right that the workman possesses. The Amendment is clearly out of order July 5, 1146

It appears to me that this is not strictly an Amendment to the Amendment of the right hon. Gentleman the Home Secretary. It can be moved as an Amendment after that Amendment has been carried July 5, 1177

It would not be in order to open a discussion on that Amendment upon the Amendment now before the House July 5, 1180

The hon. Member has an Amendment on the Paper respecting the cleaning of machinery, and he will not be in order in discussing the matter in detail on that Amendment as well as on the present Amendment July 6, 1247

The hon. Member will not be in order in discussing on this Bill the policy of the Government in taking or giving any particular Wednesday July 7, 1317

The hon. Member is now discussing the policy of the Bill, and not the particular Amendment before the House July 8, 1374

The hon. Member for Dumfries-shire has an Amendment on this point on the Paper, and he had better argue it now, as the adoption of the right hon. Gentleman's Amendment will defeat the object of it, by affirming that there should be some limit of height July 8, 1412

I think that objection is valid. The Amendment would certainly increase the charges on the Treasury, and therefore cannot be moved at this stage of the Bill July 8, 1432

The hon. Gentleman cannot go into these calculations. The question before the House is, whether the Bill is to come into operation in March or in July July 12, 1606

I invite the hon. Member to address himself to the Question before the House, which is, whether a limit shall be imposed on the power of stating a case for the Superior Court July 13 [51] 33

The hon. Member is entitled to ask the Leader of the House to take the Bill into his consideration, but he cannot go into its merits July 15, 190

It will make little difference if the Amendment be passed. There is nothing to prevent the Government proposing the Adjournment of the House immediately after the Government Business has been disposed of July 15, 191

I am pointing out that the Amendment will not necessarily have that effect; but that it will be still competent for any Member of the Government to do as is done on Fridays now—to get up and move the Adjournment of the House as soon as the Government Business is disposed of July 15, 191

To discuss the question whether the word should be "enter" or "enter and remain" is a most unusual course in a Debate on the Second Reading of a Bill July 20, 614

I must ask the hon. Member to adhere to the question before the House, and also to refrain from repetition of arguments that have been used many times July 20, 624

[Rulings re Instructions to Committee on Education (Scotland) Bill moved by Mr. T. R. Buchanan, Mr. A. O'Connor, and Captain John Sinclair July 21, 641]

Such an Amendment would be out of order, because it would have the effect of extending the Instruction to Board Schools; and notice is necessary of any extension of an Instruction July 21, 642

As it appears to me under the clause taxes are to be raised by different bodies than those by which they were raised before, and taxation will be raised over a different area July 22, 764

It speaks of the cost of maintenance, which seems to be a charge of a different nature from that previously existing, and falling on different people. The clause is out of order; so also is the clause relating to waterworks in burghs July 22, 764

Perhaps the hon. Member is not aware that this is a consequential Amendment, the word having been left out in the earlier part of the clause July 22, 827

The hon. Member is now repeating for the third or fourth time the observations made by himself and other Members. I must ask him to resume his seat July 22, 839

The hon. Member is no doubt struggling with great difficulties, and I have listened to him to the best of my ability, but I have only been able to hear one sentence frequently repeated. I must remind the hon. Gentleman that it is not proposed to meet the demand for lighthouses generally out of this fund. The House is only dealing with the question whether any public money shall be spent in the congested districts in connection with lighthouses July 28, 1362

No doubt it is usual to put a star against Government Bills. But as the Government have put this Bill down it becomes Government Business. The First Lord of the Treasury stated that the Government intended to put this Bill down. The Government have done so, and I cannot say it is not Government Business July 28, 1381

The hon. and learned Member could not take objection in point of form. The practice has invariably been to star Government Bills, but business put down by the Government becomes Government Business July 28, 1382

It was ordered the other day that the Standing Order as to the sittings of the House should not affect Government Business. The Government have put down this Bill, and therefore, it becomes Government Business, within the meaning of the recent Order July 28, 1382
